LOCAL NEWS.

Frank Calhoun, of the S S Bar, was in town one day this week.

All persons indebted to THE BLACK RANGE are requested to pay up their indebtedness.

Miss Pauline Mayer, of Fairview, went to Hillsboro to attend the teachers' normal institute.

The Yukon gold fever has not made its appearance here, but two quite severe cases are reported from Fairview.

Mr. and Mrs. Leitcham and Mr. and Mrs. Nattress, who came in from San Marcial some two weeks ago, returned home yesterday.

Frank H. Winston was at Magdalena this week attending a shipment of cattle by the Deer Park Cattle company of which he is president.

The fishing party that went over the range some days ago came back Wednesday. They caught an abundance of trout and enjoyed themselves at the warm springs on the Gila.

Quite a severe electric storm passed over here Wednesday evening. While there was heavy thunder and vivid lightning there was no damage done here; but it is reported from Chisnolito that many houses were flooded and gardens damaged.

Mrs. M. L. Sheenan, of Murphys, Calaveras county, California, would like to know the whereabouts of her son A. M. Lockwood who is supposed to be somewhere in New Mexico. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of the said A. M. Lockwood will confer a favor by immediately notifying Mrs. Sheenan.

There was a seduction case from Monticello, before Judge Russell at Fairview last Monday. One Edwardo Tufeya was charged with the seduction of Miss Constanza Sanchez, a winsome young lady of seventeen. The attorney for the defense asked that the prisoner be discharged because (as the said attorney explained it) that the "complaint and warrant issued were faultless," and His Honor sharing the same opinion, the charge against the prisoner was not dismissed. After some display of lightning shooting at the contesting legal lights the case was postponed until 10 o'clock Saturday, Aug. 7th. The prisoner was put under $300 bonds to appear on that date. Miss Sanchez belongs to one of the best families in Monticello and has always borne a good character.

Warning to Gold Seekers.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 2.—The steamer Queen which arrived from Alaska this afternoon brought word that the mounted police of the Northwest Territory are meeting all people bound for the Yukon country at the British line, beyond the White and Juneau passes, and compelling all who have not a year's supply of provisions to return to the coast. But few of the fortune seekers who have left Tacoma and the Sound within the last few weeks for Dyea or Skaguay had crossed the passes into the interior when the Queen left Dyea July 28. The first pack train over White pass was expected back at Skaguay the day the Queen sailed from there.

Rev. Alfred Kummer of Oakland, Cal., went ashore at Skaguay and reports that he was told by two men there that it would cost $400 to have their supplies, weighing 2000 pounds, carried over the pass. Kummer and Corroll of the steamer warn people not to attempt to enter the country before next spring. Kummer says that not even those who go at Skaguay or Dyea will reach the interior this winter because supplies cannot be carried over the passes. The Indians at work packing and all able are pressed into service. Men can pack, they say, but one way, and the round trip on met the steamers Mex- Topeka and Islander, all bound for Skaguay with gold seekers.

Protest of the

Providence
The faculty of Brown University, in a statement of public interest, has taken action to President Andrews. In substance the statement is that the resignation of President Andrews followed as the direct and consequences of the action of the corporation on June 17, and that Brown University now stands in an unfortunate position. It continues:

"If income be a fit criterion, then Andrews is entitled to be regarded as a pecuniary success. The greatest benefactor Brown University ever had. More than half its income is beyond doubt due to him and his family. If the restraint of President Andrews cannot be justified on these lower grounds of pecuniary results, still less defensible does it appear when viewed from a higher ground. If the action of Dr. Andrews is accepted, it would stamp the institution, in the eyes of the country, as one in which freedom of thought is not permitted when it runs counter to the views of the community, or held by those from whom the college expects financial support."

WHITE HOUSE SILENT

Rules That Are Strictly Enforced. The President and his family are driven out, the president sits on the right-hand seat and his wife on the left. The Illustrated American.

If there are others in the carriage, whether ladies or gentlemen, they sit with their backs to the horse. When Mrs. Cleveland was first married she tried the experiment of placing her mother opposite the president and herself in the presidential landau, but the people laughed at it so much that she was then) to be the maid, that was speedily dropped. When the president's wife drives alone, she sits in the right-hand corner—the place of honor. The lady of the white house cannot set foot within those splendid houses in Washington whose flagstaffs mark the foreign embassy or legation. She could not go without the president, and an embassy or legation is technically a part of the country's representation, the president could not go, so that she never sees the inside of a diplomatic house as long as she presides at the executive mansion. The president goes only at cabinet houses, and his wife cannot dine anywhere without him. President Arthur dined with the lady of the supreme court and with the president's wife, but as he had no wife the whole system was very much simplified for him. The president's wife may, if she chooses, go to luncheons where there are no gentlemen, or to teas, both being regarded as strictly informal; but the danger of giving offense by accepting one invitation and declining another is so great that it is seldom or never risked.

TIMES CHANGE.

She thought the Case Required Her to Treatment.

They had been married less than a year when she noticed that her husband stayed out late at nights and when he did come home was apt to be noisy and demonstrative, says the Detroit Free Press. On his part William observed that he could never find a knife to cut a bite to eat, and that even the family shears were out of reach, while his razors at such times were locked up and the key hidden.

He did not say much, because he was not in a condition to talk, and when he was sober he did not care to refer to the past.

But he grew worse instead of better, and one night he went home at a late hour and found the hall brilliantly lighted and on the table under the gas an assortment of all the cutlery in the house. Knives, scissors and razors alluringly open met his unsteady gaze.

"M-Mary," he called, "w-w-what does t-this mean?"

"It means," she answered, from the top of the staircase, "that ever since you've been cutting up in this manner I've been afraid you would do as you threatened to do—kill yourself with some of those things."

"Y-y-yes, Mary."

"Now I'm beginning to be more afraid that you won't, so I thought I'd give you every possible chance."

There was a sound of clatter by night, mingled with forcible though unsteady words, and William had remained at home every evening up to date.

"I was cured of my tobacco habit, Jan. 25, 1895, by using Bacco-Curo. I was a heavy smoker for twenty years. For twenty-five years I have been a great sufferer from general debility and nervous disease. For fifteen years I tried to quit, but couldn't. I took various remedies, among others, 'No-To-Bac,' 'The Indian Tobacco Antidote,' 'Double Chloride of Gold,' etc., etc., but none of them did me the least bit of good. Finally, however, I purchased a box of your 'Bacco-Curo' and it has entirely cured me of the habit in all its forms, and I have increased thirty pounds in weight and am relieved from all the numerous aches and pains of body and mind. I could write a volume of paper upon my changed feelings and condition. Yours Respectfully, E. E. BURLINGAME, Pastor C. F. Church, Clayton, Ark.
